

Captain Mike McCoy

started his career in law enforcement when he was 19 years old after he joined the Houston Police Department. Captain McCoy spent 31 years with the Houston Police Department before retiring in 2013 and immediately joined the Fulshear Police Department. With 38 years of experience Captain McCoy brings a “lot to the table.” His work experience includes patrol, undercover tactical unit, recruiting and public affairs. As the Captain of the Fulshear Police Department his duties include, but are not limited to, the public information office for both the city and the police department, recruiting and background investigations for new employees, Internal affairs investigations and all social media formats for the department. He also oversees the Citizens Police Academy which is held several times a year as well as overseeing all the community events within the city.